By Car

Hemel Hempstead can be reached from junction 20 of the M25, taking the A41 and then the A414 into the town centre. To reach Clubfinance, you then need to navigate the “magic” roundabout (a world famous series of mini roundabouts), taking the exit for the A4146 (which is basically straight across). Continue down the A4146 and straight over the first roundabout. At the second roundabout turn right onto the B487. Go straight over the next roundabout and take the first left after the zebra crossing. We are in the third building on the right. In the car you will need to drive past the office and park in one of the car parks on the left.

Hemel can also be reached via the M1. If approaching from the M1, take junction 8 onto the A414. Continue straight over the first roundabout, turning right at the second roundabout onto the A4147. At the next roundabout (after about a mile), turn left onto the B487. Go straight over the next roundabout and continue straight along the road and down the hill. After passing under the railway arch, take the 5th exit on the right onto the old town High Street (just past the fire station). We are in the third building on the right. In the car you will need to drive past the office and park in one of the car parks on the left.

By Train

Hemel Hempstead is on the mainline from London Euston and the office is a short taxi ride from the station. For further details see National Rail on www.nationalrail.co.uk
